

Empire State Opioid Epidemic Innovation Challenge

September 28-30, 2018

Columbia University Fu Foundation School of Engineering and Applied Science

Patricia Lincourt is a licensed clinical social worker with experience in substance abuse disorder and mental health treatment. She works at the New York State Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Treatment and is the Director of the Division for Practice Innovation and Care Management. She has worked with state agency partners at the Department of Health and the Office of Mental Health on the design of the New York State behavioral health Medicaid reimbursement including the carve-in to Managed Care and transition to value based purchasing. She has 30 years of clinical and program administration experience that she brings to her current role. She has an interest in promoting evidence based treatment, and developing measures of quality for substance use disorder treatment.